FOREWORD

The Volunteer Staff presents the twenty-seventh volume of the annual to the students of Peabody Demonstration School. We hope that in the future it will help to recall to them pleasant memories of Peabody.

DEDICATION

In grateful appreciation of his understanding of our needs, untiring efforts on our behalf, and guidance in preparation for the science of life, we dedicate this volume to DR. BEAUCHAMP.

Peabody Pipedreams

After twelve years of "blood, sweat, tears and toil" we the Senior Class of 1946 are rapidly approaching our graduation. The leather-bound diploma and the final handshake are drawing very near as the days pass, and this goal for which we have worked and played together for so long will soon be a memory.

However, it will be only one of many such happy thoughts which the mention of Peabody will bring to mind. We have learned that school means much more than classes, credits, and grades. To us, our school means the people we have known, and the things which we have enjoyed and "suffered" together.

Soon we will sadly leave behind our happy years at Peabody and each of us will take a different trail, meeting life and enjoying it with new friends. Yet, although the weeks and months fade into years, we shall bear common memories and the same warm feeling for Peabody will be found in us all no matter where we may be.

We have set down here a few of the things which flash across our minds and may, at some time in the future, bring back to you happy hours at Peabody:

Our first reader, Dick and Jane . . . afternoon naps . . . the playground . . . our ever faithful elementary school teachers . . . milk and graham crackers . . . our picture in Growth Through Guidance . . . trips through the college campus . . . The Story of Roland in French . . . "hook-ups" . . . the Sixth Grade Circus.

Winning all sorts of inter-grade selling and collecting contests with Dr. Holden . . . Mr. Rife's hen . . . Panthers and Pachyderms . . . entertainment by Mr. McGlon . . . tin cans, scrap, waste paper . . . Dr. Louie, "the cultural bag" . . . Camp Cookery . . . fifteen boys spending the night at Knapp Farm . . . Miss Mac's "Sunset Club" . . . Saturday night Scout meetings . . . wall cleaner, water pistols, snowballs and waterbombs . . . December 7, 1941.

Mrs. Parsons . . . six man football . . . Dr. Windrow's "brief" announcements in Assembly . . . eager expectation on the afternoons that the Volunteer is distributed . . . "late-slips" . . . Eddie Sanders vs. Elmer Davies . . . Pan American Days . . . picnics of all kinds, everywhere . . . stampedes for the cafeteria . . . new songs in Chorus . . . odors from the chemistry lab. mixing with odors from Home Ec. and the kitchen on the third floor . . . T. Jamison and the Republican Party during national elections . . . Christmas Carol programs . . . school parties "to suit all" . . . "Silence" in the library . . . La Boka . . . hayrides at the Hines . . . "Back in the League!!" . . . Dr. Beauchamp's sales talk on Baking Powders . . . our "stadium" . . . Music Clinics . . . the announcement of Roosevelt's death at Spring Football Practice . . . signing annuals . . . the girls playing softball in their blue "uniforms" . . . the Girl's City Tennis Championship . . . exams, hard and harder . . . "Tigers" . . . Faculty Marriages . . . light blue helmets . . . walking to and from the I. A. Building . . . Jack May's humor . . . the Dickson "football" game . . . Bobby "Intestinal Fortitude" Goodman . . . beating M.B.A. 38-35 . . . going out to lunch (legally) . . . Miss Slayden working hard behind the scenes . . . sunning on the front steps . . . our "psychological advantage" during 1946 basketball . . . Coach Neil's footpowder . . . Trial by Jury . . . Trudy Lasseter at the piano (or anywhere, for that matter) . . . "Slim" . . . the dry humor and sage philosophy originating in Room 110 . . . white coats and beautiful dresses at the Spring Prom . . . our graduation.

Looking Ahead

My friends, Commencement Day at last is here,
Which means each one must start and take his way
Along Life's unknown road; we can not stay
To hold the comradeship which is so dear.
Our friendships have grown stronger, year by year;
Our joys and sorrows have been shared each day;
What lies before us only God can say—
The world is there. Yet we have naught to fear,
Naught but ourselves. In this Atomic Age
Our task is plain: we buckle fast the mail
On shoulders squared and step forth to engage
Forces of Sin and Ignorance; we dare not fail.
Unconquered we must stand; though battles rage.
We fight for Truth and find the Holy Grail.

ROBERT HELTON

Prophecy for Class of '46

On July 4, 1951, a grey mist hangs over New York; the buildings glisten; water drips from awnings as the pavement steams. A grey figure steps from a doorway into a waiting cab. In the eerie light, he seems transparent—indeed, he is of the other world—the Spirit of '46! As the cab hurtles through the canyon-like streets, he sits quietly in the corner, making notes on long pieces of paper.

What are they?

Why it's a list of the class of '46 at P. D. S., his Alma Mater.

Yes, there's—

Barbara Anderson, model for those pictures "a la Watteau" by Rob McDonald, foremost artist of the period. It seems he is still drawing her.

Let's follow and find out where he is going.

What's this? Why, look more closely at the cab. Aren't those letters on the side "C. C. C."? Of course, that's the Cathcart Cab Concern. You remember Mary Louise, the girl who took anybody anywhere any time he wanted to go.

Look! The cab is stopping at the Waldorf Astoria. Opening the door is Tommy Jamison! I thought I heard that one didn't need an education for a job like that.

Well, we're going in. Wonder what that flash was. Oh, I see; it's Lew Wallace and his camera from Life. Who is that behind him? It's "Dair" Lovin getting ideas for more of her hilarious cartoons for the Times. She's looking as beautiful as ever.

We hear soft (?) music coming from the Wedgewood Room. Something familiar? Sure, it's Carl Moor and his "Moorish Moors," co-starring Amy Waddington and her tantalizing trombone. In the corner is Bill Martin standing on a soap box singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" with Angela Brown. They are clashing with the "Moorish Moors" and passing the hat for the benefit of Bill and Angela. At a table surrounded by photographers and autograph hunters, we spot the Vivian Leigh of our time, Sara Cox, appearing on the revival of Gone With the Wind at Radio City Music Hall. Trying to keep the eager fans back is her manager, Betty Hughes. Wowers model Margie Jones is attracting just as big a crowd while posing exotically for Creason Clayton's sketching.

Leaving the companionable group, we follow the spirit into the lobby where we are met by Trudy Lasseter and Katy Anderson, duo-pianists, who have had a very successful tour. Gossip says Trudy is writing a scandal sheet on the side.

Out in the street, we—well what do you know? There's Lucy Wilkes, the new head of the Bureau of Missing Persons, but as I was saying when I was so rudely interrupted, across the street on that billboard! It's Betty Barbee in an ad for Conti Shampoo. Knew that beautiful hair would get her places.

We follow the little man in grey down Fifth Avenue, and get the shock of our lives. Under a huge "Harvey's Has It" sign, in not so huge letters, is written Bob Massie, President and Jim Mark, Vice-president. Talk about expanding!

Continuing our stroll down Fifth our little Grey Man is stopped by a large group of people. Somebody is measuring the Empire State Building. It's Yot Williams. He says he's going to build a bigger one.

Look over there in the crowd. Those two buyers from Sak's, Fifth Avenue, Martha Keith and Bettye Schumpert, are chatting with Lillian Jennings. No "Dumpy" no more. Du Barry done did it. There goes Jean Slaymaker on the way to her job as hostess at the Hotel New Yorker, and with her is Lu Dene Wingo, corresponding secretary for Harvey's.

We enter the Empire State and are surprised to see Richard Johnson, elevator boy. At every floor we hear Jane Elam's sigh, "Oh, Nick!" After seeing the city from on high we drop to the main floor and proceed on our way.

Meandering down Fifth Avenue we notice the little man is entering a pet shop; over the door is a sign, upside-down and backwards—"Purchase Pedigreed Poodles at Moody's and McMahan's Menagerie." Entering the pet shop, we see Naomi Yampol buying birdseed in one-hundred-pound bags for her jailbirds at the Women's Penitentiary. She's a great reformer and raises stool-pigeons.

We come out into the drizzle to see Jean Sherrell, under the Roxy Marquee Spellbound (that's a pun, son) by the city's heights. Out of that bookstore across the street appears someone familiar. Her face framed by the stack of books she is carrying, reveals Helen Sharpe, engaged in scholarly research.

Hailing a taxi (C. C. C. of course), the Spirit whispers to the driver, and he heads for the Stork Club. On the way, we are overtaken and passed by a charging figure on snow shoes shortly preceded by another cab containing one horror-stricken male animal. At regular intervals, we can hear a plaintive cry, Oh, Jack!!!! As you probably have guessed, it's Gloria Burton.

Upon our arrival, we are met by a hurtling figure on the large side (enormous, that is). It's just a mirage, we say hopefully; but, no, it's that great All-American football star, Earl Woolwine, in the pose of a ballet dancer, having been thrown out on his ear by Vic Bernal, the bouncer. Ambling in we find Nancy Burch, having just returned from a transoceanic swim. Conversing with her is the glamorous person Jean Friedman, who is now advertising for Coro's exclusive jewelry store. As the little man makes his way through the crowd, he runs into Meredeth Henry, selling king-size cigarettes. At the check room, we are surprised to find Mary Ann Throneberry and Cathy Branch, cute in pink and purple tights, fighting over aged Van Johnson's crutch. It seems that he got too old to run any more and Betsy Turner finally caught him for sho', 'cause here she is, with the end of his chain shackled to her waist. Turning away from this touching scene, we see Cumonover Model Beverly Willis talking with Joy Fine, the foremost authority on hair knick-knacks. Over there at a corner table is the star of The Affairs of Susan, Susan Hite, and coming our way is Admiral Everett Kelley.

Leaving the Stork Club, we follow old '46 back to his ever-waiting cab and are swiftly, but doubtfully, taken to Jack Mark's follies.

On the way we pass Jean Tyner, now Buntin, strolling down Broadway with Martha Tutwiler, now Hewitt. That's a cute little girl Jean has with her; and we are not going too fast to see the baby in Martha's carriage.

By the way—I heard from Martha Oliver, also a newlywed, that Carolyn Rust has married Harvey Lester and is raising a chain of Harvey's and that Peggy Faulkner's littlest tyke won a recent baby contest. But since the follies have already started, we'd better hurry on.

Up on the Flatiron Building the lights are advertising the magazine that Bob Helton is putting out under the managership of Steve Cragon. Heard that this scientific magazine's staff contained that famous physicist Marjorie DePriest.

We are a little late for The Follies but our actual purpose is following the Spirit as he meets former Peabodyites. As the grey man seems to know the right people, we get past the doorman and walk down the hall between the dressing rooms. On the doors, we read such names as Betty Notgrass and Peggy Davis, and find Gloria Bruer's plaque.

Continuing down the hall we are confronted by that beautiful blond Katy Lou Martin. At this next door, is a sign telling us that Harriet Vivion is the director of choreography here.

After visiting with Jack, we follow the Spirit of '46 back to the taxi and we catch the words "food" and "Tanksley's." So we travel on to the famed Tanksley's Serve Yourself Restaurant under the proprietorship of Bill Tanksley. Bill says that he would have his customers cook it themselves except that they like his cook too much. Serving themselves huge steaks and discussing the oncoming horse show are Ann Hines and Nancy Ross, while Ramona Galloway, the new manager of the Brooklyn "Bumettes," listens in.

Having eaten a swell meal there, we leave for Radio City, and on the way, we pass famed Slapsey Maxie's who has such charming waitresses as Margaret Jenkins, Dorothy Parker, and Ann Ellis.

The Spirit of '46 decides to walk the last block, since he may run into some friends. And sure enough, as we alight from the cab, we spot Billie Joy Taylor, the eminent author of "Eternally Emerald" and Mary Littell Rust who has come to New York to find "Johnny." There go Josephine Curry and Jean Allen Powell, professors of abnormal psychology and English respectively.

Stiff doses of bicarbonate of soda follow our meal at Tankley's as we continue in the footsteps of—guess who? The little man in grey! (Y'all are catching on quick!) Seems he wants to see what makes the ether waves tick. So we head toward Radio City. We stand quietly in the studio while our little man whispers to the messenger girl Grace Walker, who rushes us up to the fortieth floor and the offices of the head man, president, producer, and financier. We are happily greeted by Dot Argo, who relieves us of all our weapons. Passing through another door, Nadine Pitt takes our fingerprints and credentials. Finally we encounter Martha Reding, who tells us we can see the Boss for the small sum of five dollars each. Then—the heavy doors swing inward and what a sight meets our eyes? Behold, Jimmy Ward and his private secretary, Sally Rives, playing chess!

We leave this charming scene and wander into the corridor where switch-board operator Mary Lloyd McKeel tells us that Joan Bell and Joy Greene have finished their radio-television broadcast in Studio B. They are the best comedy team of the year; in fact, Peggy Jackson just broke the laugh meter under her chair. Someone burst out of the elevator a second ago. It's Gloria Vanskike, late to rehearsal. In Studio A, we see a janitor airing out after the National Livestock hour, featuring John Lowe and his prize cattle. The janitor looks familiar. We recognize him when he grabs the mike and starts to swing on it. A note comes out. Listen to that tone quality; that intonation; that diction. It's John Wolfe. O.K., son, it's only a little mouse. You can come off your chair now.

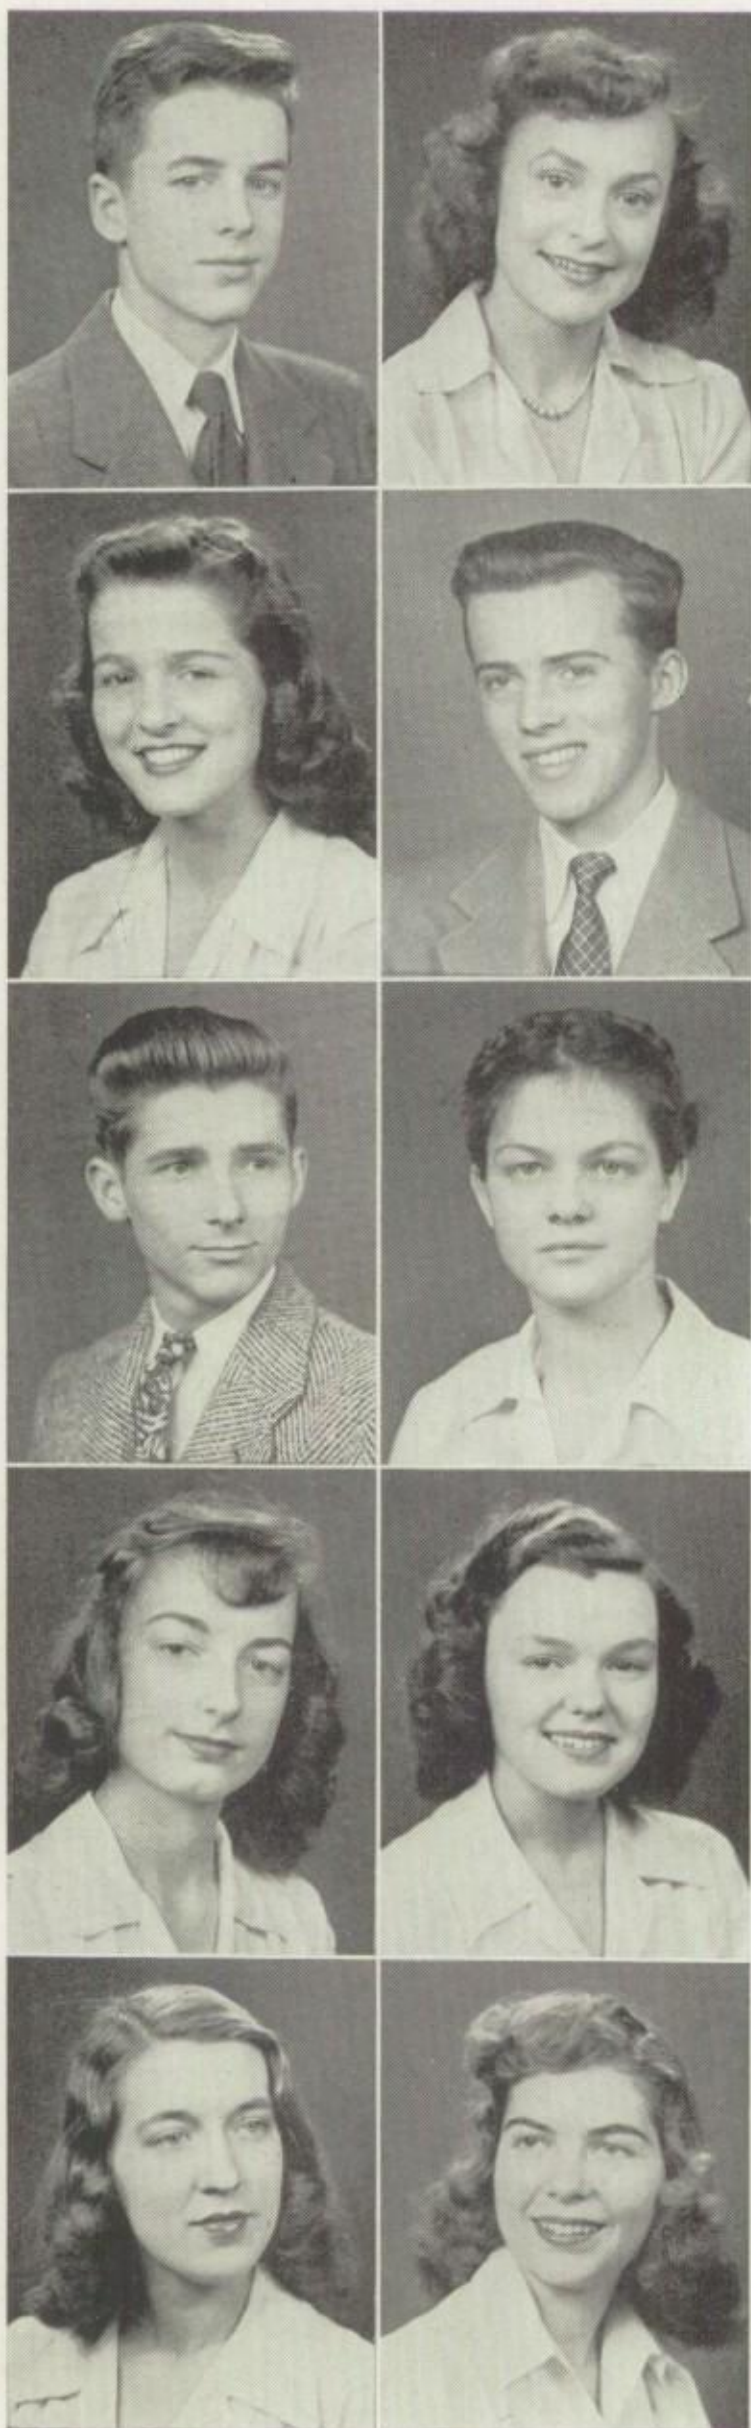

The Spirit is evidently getting a little weary. He walks out to the street and hails another C. C. C. cab. We string along and find out we're headed for the Newark air field via the Holland Tunnel. Passing through, we see in a familiar car parked at the side, Leonard Melton and Jerry Fox. Leonard has patented a new sling-shot, guaranteed to put out any disturbing lights. He's just showing Jerry how he (beg pardon) it works.

Soon, we arrive at the airport. In the administration building, two hometown girls, Stelle Holmes, who completed a brand new book called How Friends Win and People Influence Us, and Cliffadeane Radabaugh, who is campaigning for shorter names for children, are surrounded by a battery of photographers. Through the glass walls of their office we spot Barbara Cain and George Smith who are acting as interpreters for Spanish people here. Blaring over the public address is the announcement that the Johnson and Roberts Rocket is leaving on its pleasure cruise to the moon. Of course, that means David Johnson and Houston Roberts.

While we've been looking around, our little grey man has bought a ticket for home. He folds his long list and puts it away. Boarding the waiting plane, his spirits seem to rise, his eyes rest (?) on the drape shape of hostess Kay Fryer. He looks again and slowly turns to face us. For the first time he speaks to us, and in his first and final words we find the true spirit of the class of '46. "Hubba—Hubba!!!!"

THE SEVENTH GRADE

The Seventh Grade

We've had a very good class this year,
It's been full of work and cheer.
Our teachers really have been swell,
So we have learned our lessons well.

Joan Harap has quite a brain
Which someday will lead her to fame.

John Nixon does well in history
But Math to him is still a mystery.

Margaret Thompson is the brown haired lass
That always stays at the head of the class.

Briggs Smith is the chubby boy
That's always full of mirth and joy.

Kathryn Cummins' long brown tresses
Are her beauty, everyone confesses.

Merrill Moore is one of a kind,
Another like him is hard to find.

Gerry Parrino's quiet ways
Will win her a lover one of these days.

Tony C. plays, the time to pass,
On the playground and in the class.

Anne Jarman makes much noise
Over all the various boys.

Tommy Tucker lives on a farm;
He wins all the animals with his charm.

Clementina Kuhlman, known as Clem,
Is considered, by her friends, quite a gem.

Richard Morgan is quiet in class
Because his eyes are glued on a lass.

Alice Laughlin is a good Girl Scout;
She does her work without a pout.

W. G. Dorris is his name;
He'll never appear in the hall of fame.

Edith Dickinson's pretty brown hair
Will help her many a lad to snare.

Harold Goldberg isn't very bold
But we find he has a heart of gold.

Frankie Gooch is a newcomer to class;
We have all found her a charming lass.

Lofton Lemmonds is quite a boy;
He is also very coy.

Frances Cardwell is so gentle and sweet
That any nice boy would give her his seat.

William Still bought a little pig;
It's four months old and not very big.

Sandra Tower's great ambition in life
Is to be a good mother and a gentle wife.

Jimmy Mincy's nickname is Mince-meat;
You'll find his friendliness is hard to beat.

Jean Ihrke, with her yellow hair,
Believes in honesty and playing fair.

Bill Litterer never uses the wolf-call
For he finds his joy in playing foot-ball.

Dawn Hood will probably marry early
To a boy whose hair is dark and curly.

Bill Rowan is our genius in math;
We would all like to follow his path.

Betty Wood has darkish hair
And a complexion that is very fair.

George Welsh is tall, light-headed, and cute;
But all the girls find him quite a brute.

Betsy May, around whom all the girls flock,
Feels silly when riding the bus just a block.

Barbara Gore is tiny and neat;
You'll find her sweetness is hard to beat.

Murray Pardue is quite a lad;
You'll find he always follows the fad.

Phoebe Clark's one main joy
Is trying to snare a handsome boy.

David Emmons will need a stenographer
Because he will become such a great photographer.

Alice Peebles hits the baseball so high
That it gives the other team reason to sigh.

The Student Council

During 1945-46 the Student Council again became active, under the capable guidance of Mr. Robert Neil, faculty adviser. The council, which is composed of two representatives from each class, took as its objective this year the compiling of a handbook for the use of all new students. This booklet will contain editorials on student conduct, school regulations, school songs, and many other valuable items. Miss McMullan assisted greatly in assembling the needed material for the handbook.

Another responsibility of the council was to bring the student body and the faculty into closer relationship with each other and to make recommendations to the faculty concerning the conduct of the students and general improvement of the school. As a result, students and faculty have been brought closer together in striving for their common aims, and certain evils are being worked on by both groups and will, it is hoped, in the future be eliminated.

The council met every Wednesday at activity period to discuss the various problems and to decide on the best methods of handling them. Certain regulations on school conduct were presented to the student body by the council, thus greatly improving the living atmosphere of Peabody.

The council sponsored an all school party in the latter part of the year, and many forms of entertainment were featured, including square dancing, ball-room dancing, and games. Forms of recreation such as this for the students' enjoyment helped to promote school spirit.

All in all the Student Council had a very successful year, and it is hoped that the Council of next year will continue to expand its activities.

French Club

Parlez-vous francais? Well even if you don't speak French fluently, an interest in France and the French people makes you eligible for membership in Les Francophiles; Lovers of France.

Although this is only our second year of organization, under the leadership of our officers, Kay Fryer, president; Harriet Vivion, vice-president; Elaine Fensterwald, secretary-treasurer, and our able sponsor Mrs. Shane and of course the wonderful support of our twenty-five members, we have had successful and interesting meetings twice each month.

Some of our outstanding programs this year were the Christmas party, which consisted of several French Christmas scenes, topped off by refreshments for all; and, at a more recent meeting, an absorbing film on Haiti, a French possession, which was shown.

Les Francophiles has grown by leaps and bounds and next year we hope to become even better acquainted with France through correspondence and other activities thus enabling us to be true Lovers of France.

ELAINE FENSTERWALD

The Greek Club

For the first time at P. D. S. a Greek Club was organized at the beginning of this year under the sponsorship of Mr. Peery.

The nucleus of this club was a group of six students who had taken Greek the previous year and who were interested in the civilization and culture of Greece. To this group were added other students also interested in this topic.

At the first meeting the following officers were elected: Mark Venrick, president; Roy Payne, vice-president; and Mary Ann Sensing, secretary-treasurer.

The club met bi-weekly and enjoyed talks given by Mr. Peery and various members of the club.

One of the main events of the year was a picnic at the Parthenon.

MARY ANN SENSING

Romani Hodierni

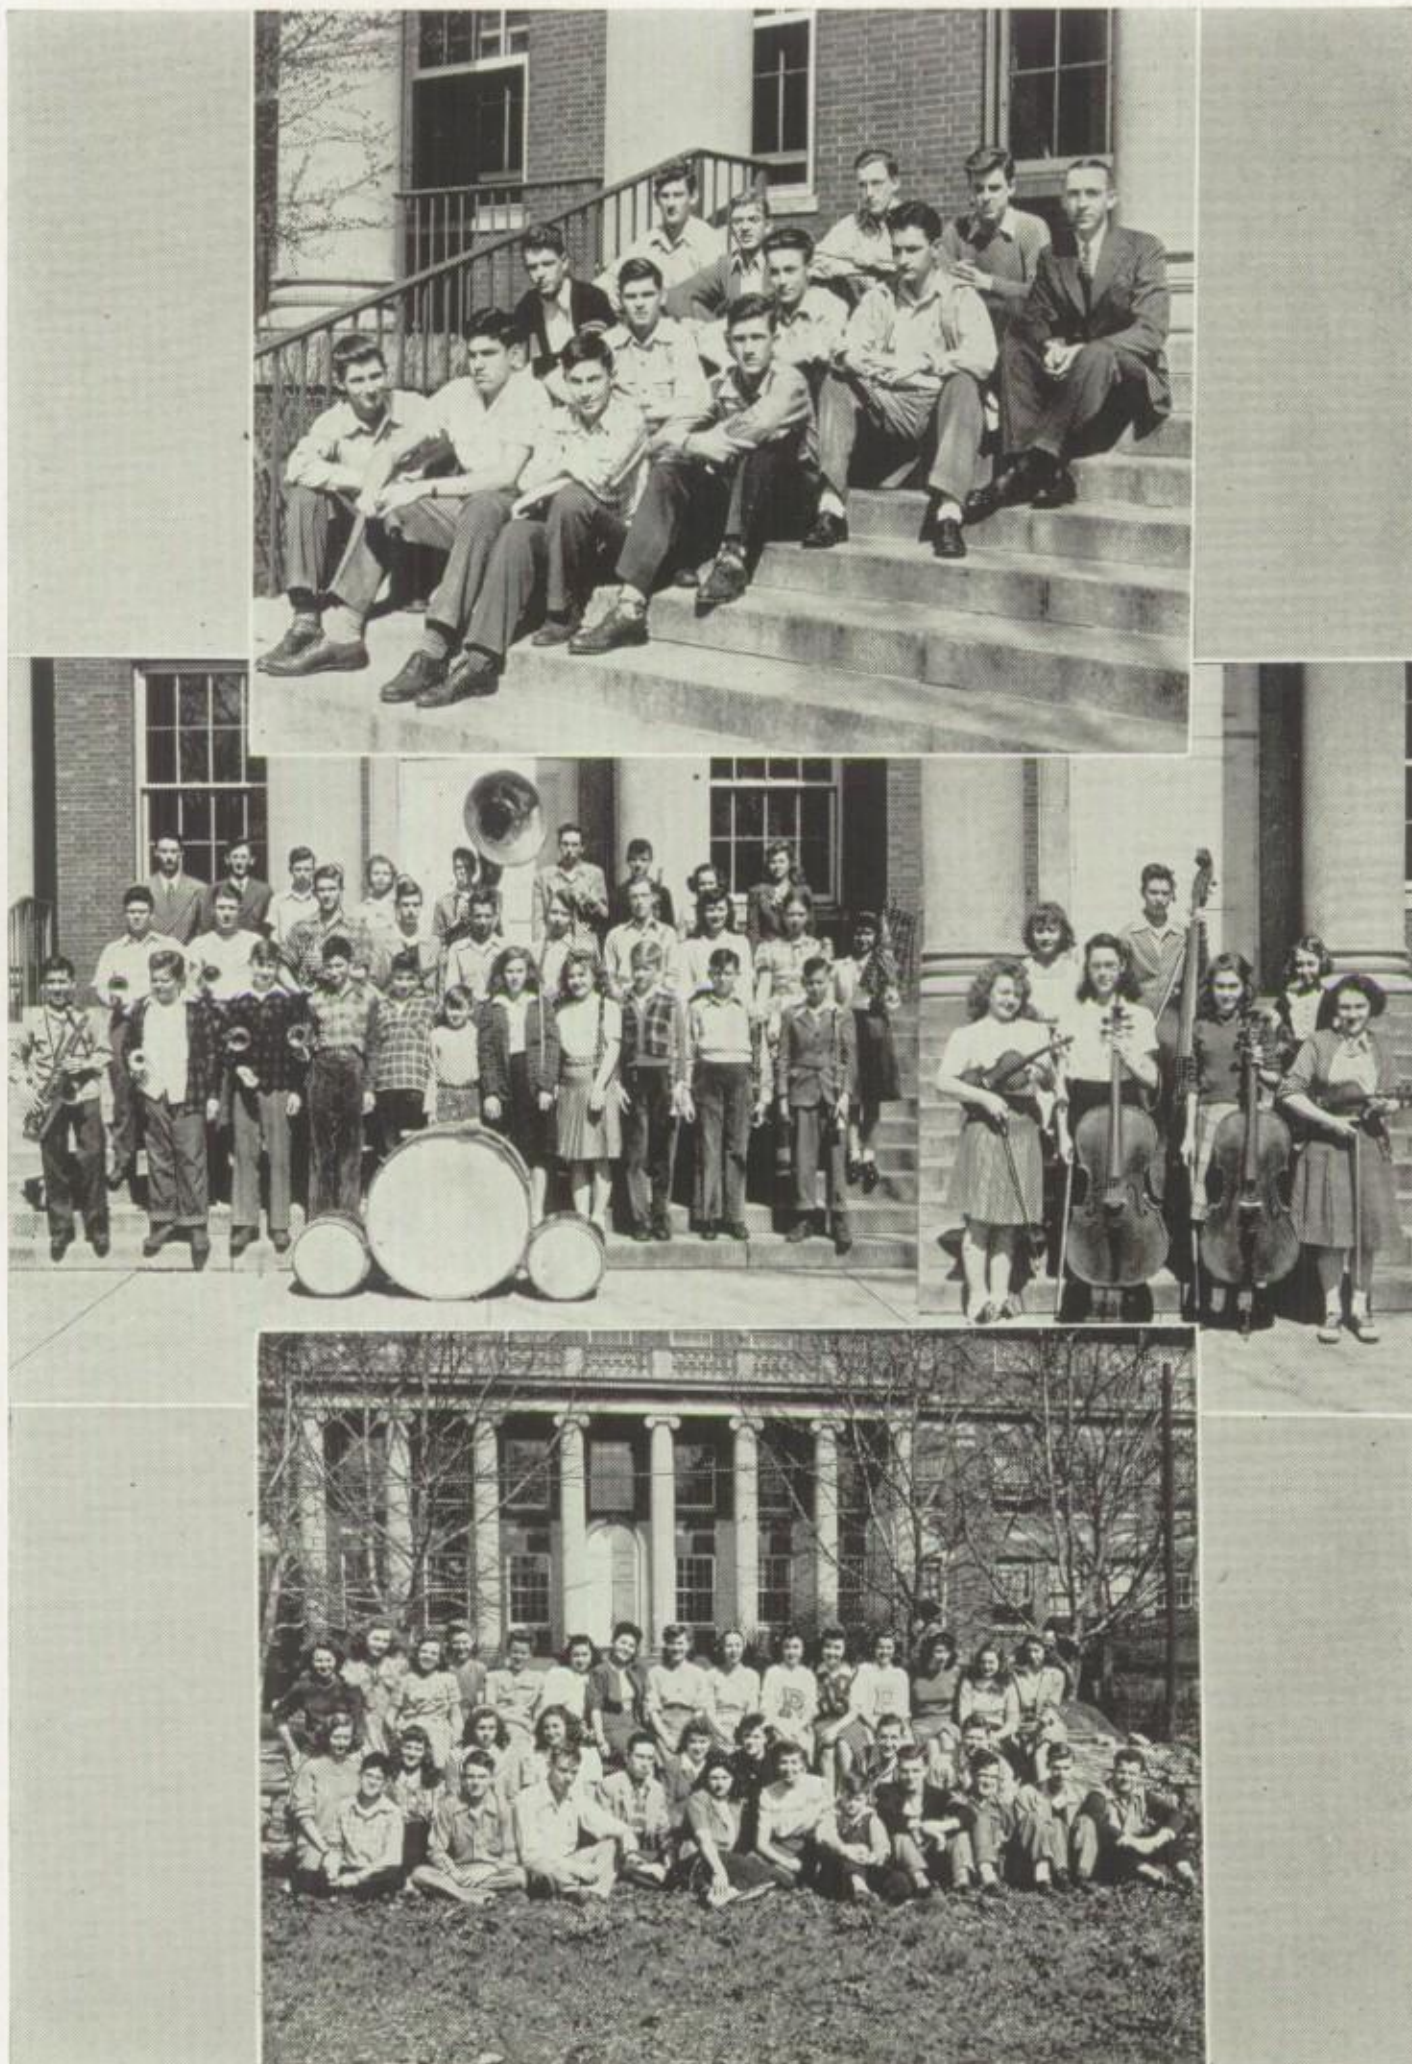

The Latin Club, Romani Hodierni, under the capable leadership of Mr. O. C. Peery has been active during the past year. President Robert Helton presided at all meetings and vice-president Jimmy Stockard has provided an interesting program on each occasion. The office of secretary was occupied by Donald Maynard.

Meetings were held every third Friday at the activity period. The first program was an operetta of the myth, "Pyramus and Thisbe." The succeeding programs were devoted to discussions and slides on Roman towns, meals, and general study of subjects of interest to all.

Parties were held at Christmas and Valentine's Day under the direction of the social committee and its chairman, Mark Venrick. Latin games were played, prizes awarded, and refreshments served.

The members of the club have endeavored to fulfil the object of learning of the Roman civilization during this year.

MARK VENRICK

The Erosophian Society

Although the Erosophian Society is probably the newest organization at Peabody, it has the oldest origin. Our society is based on the old Erosophian Society at the University of Nashville.

With the aid of Dr. Windrow and Mr. Harvill, some of the boys who were particularly interested in public speaking organized this club. We held our first meeting on the evening of February 18. At this meeting, everyone became familiar with the constitution and was sworn in.

The next order of business was to elect officers. They are as follows: Donald Maynard, president; Bob Massie, vice-president; Frank Ingraham, secretary; James Mark, marshal. Everett Kelley, a charter member of the society who left for the U. S. Navy, is an honorary member.

The purpose and goals of the society are best stated in our constitution: "To facilitate our efforts to acquire knowledge—to promote depth and correctness of thought, and to develop the understanding to cultivate the reasoning faculties and bring into exercise the higher and better powers of the mind to better enable us to attain the excellency of a liberal education."

Our programs this year have consisted of panels, forums, and debates on different subjects. We have gained much knowledge about orations and forms of speaking.

FRANK INGRAHAM

Band

The Demonstration School Band, under the baton of Mr. William S. English, has been an industrious organization this year. It started out as a small group in September, but it has grown in number since then. The assistant directors are Miss Sarah Holroyd and Mr. Arva Corder. The band played for the football game between Peabody and Murfreesboro, and took part in a school music program at Christmas time. Several of its members participated in the Region VII Band Clinic that was held here Feb. 21, 22, and 23 and the band entered a contest in April, and took part in other school programs before the end of the year.

AMY WADDINGTON

The String Ensemble

The String Ensemble meets Tuesday and Thursday of every week at eight o'clock. It is made up of five violins, one viola, two cellos, and one piano. We enjoy playing together and have given several programs. We are planning several more in the future.

ELAINE GORE

Dramatic Club

Although our club only began its career last spring, it is rapidly growing in prestige and membership. One reason for its quick rise to fame is due to the fine leaders we have had. Houston Roberts was our president until the United States Navy stepped into the picture, and then the vice-president, Leonard Melton took up his duties. Betty Notgrass makes a capable secretary and Martha Tutwiler has her hands full taking care of any and all financial matters. At the close of our first year, we have to our credit three plays and three marvelous parties.

Our plays were of a wide variety. One was given for the Community Chest, the other two were comedies given for the school with a few outside performances.

We want to thank everyone for their help and cooperation in the club. Remember next year, "The Show Must Go On," so keep up a good Dramatic Club for Peabody.

The Girl Reserves

The organization of the Girl Reserves is sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association. Unlike similar organizations, the Girl Reserves have been organized with no stated rules nor regulations, nor program of activity. There are general sponsors provided by the Young Women's Christian Association for each club. Once each month an Inter-Club Council meeting is held at the Y.W.C.A. Those attending are the sponsors, and any interested members of the various clubs. At these meetings there is general discussion of new activities and any problems presented concerning activities already undertaken. This club through its lack of more formal organization provides fine opportunity for creative planning and work. Much excellent assistance is rendered by these girls in cooperation with Service Clubs in the community. The Girl Reserves of Peabody Demonstration School have in the past helped in the Junior League Home for Crippled Children, and in carrying programs to a home for the aged. Tentative suggestions for programs and program materials for the different clubs are provided through the general offices of the Y.W.C.A. Exceedingly helpful instructions and demonstrations are given to the girls with reference to good grooming and clothes planning, specific problems of health, the benefit or detriment of good or bad habits, and many of those things which are of particular interest and beneficial to young girls. The Girl Reserves Club under the Young Women's Christian Association corresponds to the Hi-Y Club for boys sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Association. The officers at Peabody Demonstration School this year have been as follows: Harriet Vivion, president; Martha Keith, vice-president; Mary Littell Rust, secretary; and Martha Tutwiler, sergeant-at-arms. A general camp for the clubs of Kentucky and Tennessee will be conducted at Camp Junaluska at Lake Junaluska, North Carolina, in this summer of 1946.

Troop 24

Despite the fact that the Nashville Council has temporarily become somewhat inactive, Troop 24 is going strong and keeping its usual fast pace in all scout activities.

A council has been formed from some of the older boys in the troop in order to plan the troop program and keep it functioning.

Two troop hikes were made to Williamson County, each lasting for several days and nights.

Several of our members, as Junior Leaders at Camp Boxwell, were elected to the Order of the Arrow, a national honorary camp society for senior scouts.

Members of the troop are vitally interested in and have had a great deal to do with the success of the Nashville Children's Museum.

The troop has had a good representation at all Honor Courts and other scout events.

We are looking forward with enthusiasm to the annual Field Day and the fall camporee, hoping to win high honors so that we may continue our fine record.

The enlistment of new boys has been rather small this year, and all who are interested are proved to be a very successful year for Troop 15.

KIM MASSIE

Girl Scouts

The Girl Scout Troop 15 began its second year at Peabody in September.

We had a few meetings with the leader, Miss Hager, the elementary librarian, before Christmas. It was decided that we would hold our meetings in the elementary library at 3 o'clock on Monday afternoons.

Fifteen new members joined Troop 15 and together with the old Scouts a membership of twenty-four was reached.

The troop is divided into three patrols. Joan Harap is the patrol leader of a patrol composed of the girls who were members of Troop 15 last year. The assistant Scout leaders for this patrol are Mary Heiken and Junell Randolph. This patrol is beginning to work for badges. The two other patrols are made up of girls who have joined the troop this year. Virginia Gooch is the patrol leader of one of the patrols, and Mrs. Chadwick is the assistant Scout leader. Susan Moore is the partol leader of the other group, and Mrs. W. W. Clark is the assistant Scout leader. These two patrols are working on their second class requirements. They have been working on nutrition and some work in First Aid.

On February 11 we had a valentine party. Each Scout made a valentine and brought it to the party. The party was given by the old Scouts to welcome the new members. Refreshments were served and we all played games.

At the following meeting on February 18, the new members were initiated. We had a simple yet impressive candlelight service, and Miss Hager presented the new members with their Scout pins.

Two of the members were chosen to attend the Girl Scout Birthday Party on March 11 at Scarritt College. These Scouts made a most interesting report the following meeting. They had heard speakers from Brazil, China, India, and Africa who told about Scouting in their country.

There has been very fine cooperation between the leaders and the members and 1946 has cordially invited to join.

MARY HEIKEN

VOLUNTEER

The Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club this year was composed for the most part of freshmen, sophomores, and a few juniors. For many of the girls, it was their first experience in choral work of this kind. In spite of this, however, they turned out some very fine work. Many types of music were studied under the able direction of Miss Boekleheide, and much valuable experience was gained.

The Glee Club participated in the Christmas program, on which they sang the beautiful "Gesù Bambino." They also sang with the Mixed Chorus in various other school programs, and made up a large part of the "spectators" in "Trial by Jury."

The officers for this year were as follows: Katy Anderson, president; Judy Cragon, vice-president; Barbara Martin, treasurer, and Betty Tidwell, librarian.

The Madrigals

The Peabody Demonstration School Madrigal Singers have had a very busy and interesting year. During the Christmas season the Madrigals took part in the annual school Christmas program, sang for a dinner given by the nurses of Nashville, and a meeting of University Women where they were the only high school music group represented. The Madrigals also sang for the Fannie Battle Day Home on Christmas Eve and were very proud of their collection.

With spring came more appearances. Among these were: The Region Seven Clinic Competition which brought them a superior rating, the Middle Tennessee Spring Festival, and several assembly programs at local high schools.

The members of the Madrigals are: Sopranos—Kay Fryer, Roxanne Hovious, Freda Feldkircher, Joan Bell; Altos—Gloria Van Skyke, Josephine Curry, Mary Lloyd McKeel; Tenors—John Wolfe, Robert Helton, Bill Martin; Basses—John Culley, Jimmy Ward, and Dane Boggs. These were chosen from a somewhat larger group of volunteers.

Under the capable direction of Miss Viola Boekelheide, the Madrigals carried on the tradition of singing the ancient "madrigal" songs, or part songs without accompaniment. The Madrigals not only had a great deal of fun but also gained valuable experience. The group also profited from the able direction of Burney Morriss for a short time, who helped to make this year an especially good one.

Mixed Chorus

By each member participating actively for the entire year, the Mixed Chorus under the direction of Miss Viola Boekelheide, presented a program for the year that was indeed one of the most successful that Peabody Demonstration School has ever known.

Among the more important festivals and concerts for the past year were the following: The Thanksgiving program, which was our first public performance of the year. Following this was our annual Christmas Carol Services, on which the whole chorus and Miss Boekelheide received much praise. On February 23, part of the Mixed Chorus entered the Festival Concert which was held at Hume-Fogg High School under the leadership of George F. Strickling, our guest director. We all felt we had learned a great deal from our experience with the efficient choral director and composer.

Because of the ill health of Miss Boekelheide, Mr. Burney Morriss of Peabody College directed the Chorus in giving a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta which won much recognition on February the first and second. This was followed by our annual Easter Program and Easter Sunrise Services, the Pan-American Day Program, and the Southern Music Festival, under the direction of Harold Decker.

In May the Mixed Chorus gave its annual formal concert, which ended the year's activities. We all shall look back to the Mixed Chorus and Miss Boekelheide as our most pleasant memories of Peabody Demonstration School.

Our officers are as follows: John Wolfe, president; Trudy Lasseter, vice-president; Kay Fryer, secretary, and John Culley, librarian.

Boys' Athletic Club

Bob Massie (President), Bill Tanksley (Vice-President), James Mark (Secretary), Kim Massie (Treasurer), Leonard Melton (Sgt.-at-Arms), Everett Kelley, Steve Cragon, Bobby Goodman, Frank Ingraham, Dennis Cooke, Jack May, Bob Kuykendall, Ben Cardwell, George Root, Dane Boggs, Murray Cooke.

The Athletic Club got off to a good start this year by voting in eight new members: Dennis Cooke, Murray Cooke, Frank Ingraham, Dane Boggs, "Slim" Kuykendall, George Root, Jack May, and Ben Cardwell. This group took over the vacancies left by the graduated seniors. Of the five who left us last year, four are in the armed forces: J. B. Marks, Lawrence Goodman, and Sydney Smith being in the navy while Stuart Nicholson is in a branch of the Army Air Corps. We also lost a valuable member March 1st when Everett Kelley left for the Navy V-5.

During the first half year the Athletic Club was given the authority to handle several offenders for violations concerning athletics. Through football and basketball seasons we were too busy for any club social activity, but with the first pretty weather following basketball we had a very successful picnic at Percy Warner Park.

The picnic was about the last official act by the Club as it was decided best to disband it for several reasons. After long discussion we decided in favor of disbanding the Athletic Club and forming a better Club by which every letterman of any sport automatically becomes a member. This will allow more boys in the Club and will be an additional incentive for a fellow to make a letter. There will be a steering group, the Athletic Council, at the head of the Club and it will be their responsibility to see that the work is done. Let's hope the new organization will be as successful as the old one!

Girls' Athletic Council

The Girls' Athletic Council is composed of three girls from the Senior Class and two from each of the other high school classes. The president, a Senior, decides when the meetings are to be held, then presides over them. This past year the time found most convenient to the majority of members for meetings was Friday morning before school.

This organization is a great help in that it prevents the loss of time due to the disagreements which will unavoidably arise in a large group. In that way more time was provided for other activities. These girls with the help of "Teach" Huggins, determine the main sports in which the Girls' Intramurals will participate during the year, when they will be played, and how many tournament games will be held. They also set the number of practice games before the real games begin.

We were very fortunate this past year in that all the members of the group were willing workers and anxious to co-operate with one another. The girls did not have as much time to meet as they felt necessary, but even so they accomplished a great deal.

Those interested in the Girls' Athletic Council are already formulating plans for next year which will make the work of this organization more effective and as a result, bring about an even better girls' athletic program. Good luck, girls!

Football

Football at Peabody this year was a bright spot in our athletic program. Despite the none too encouraging prospects last spring we began training with the hope of something better in the fall. Although this marked only our second year back in the T.S.S.A.A., and interscholastic competition, we had a pretty heavy schedule compared with material and experience on hand. Particularly were we lacking in experience.

Beginning early in September two practice sessions a day was the rule up until the day we began regular classes. We worked on fundamentals for the first couple of weeks. It wasn't until near the first days of school were we issued uniforms; the signal to prepare for the rougher stuff in the near future.

The "T" formation was our choice of running attacks and proved to be very popular with all of the fellows. It functioned smoothly in every game thus rewarding our long practice and Coach Bridges' patience. Along with the "T" we also used an original formation by Mr. Bridges entitled the "Q" formation. This proved to be our most reliable long distance ground gainer and power formation. A long punt formation was used for kicks and passing.

Real spirit was shown by everybody, especially as our first game approached. Starting positions were finally secured by the following fellows: ends, Creason Clayton and Everett Kelley; tackles, Jack Marks and Leonard Melton; guards, Earl Woolwine and Jordan Litsey; center, James Mark; half-backs, George Root and Bobby Goodman; quarter-back, Bob Massie and full-back, Bill Tanksley.

Hendersonville was our first opponent and we were out to beat them worse than we did the year before when we sloshed over a muddy gridiron to a 14-0 victory. We scored a touchdown in the first half but failed to add the extra. A little disappointed, we came back in the second half with more points as our object. We did add another six-pointer in the third period as well as tacking on the extra point, but had to be content with that as their scrappy line stopped any further threat. Our first victory, 13-0!

We had a lot of kinks to work out of our running attack so we really went to work. Charlotte was our next game and next victim as well. We played the role of underdog but surprised many by clipping the speedy visiting eleven 13-6.

After settling down to a good steady practice we played host to Mt. Juliet and sailed through them 45-6. Our second stringers played much of the last half and displayed good ball by adding two touchdowns.

The night of October 26th found the "Tigers" battling a very stubborn Goodlettsville eleven. We went onto the field pretty sure of a win and seemingly confirmed this by pushing over a quick tally. But we were stopped cold at everything we tried thereafter while they registered six points to their own good. We broke the tie in the third stanza but had to play a strong defensive game the rest of the time as they tried desperately for another score. Final results: Peabody 12; Goodlettsville 6.

Our fifth win was over Dickson. Playing in a sea of water and red clay mud we floated over three touchdowns and as many extras for a 21-0 decision.

Cumberland "Indians" furnished our sixth and last win of the season. Though they played a scrappy game they came out on the short end of a 28-0 score.

Murfreesboro spoiled our homecoming game as their heavier and more experienced team humbled us 12-6. It was our lone defeat in seven starts. This game was the climax of a very successful football campaign and was the best game we played the entire year.

The "B" team was somewhat more successful than their big brothers. They played five games and won three of them. Most of these fellows will be out for a berth on next year's team and in a couple of years will be hard to stop.

Basketball

As in football this was our second year back in the T.S.S.A.A. competition, but unlike football we didn't make so good a record this year as we did last. Having lost six of our first ten lettermen, three of which were on the first team, we were at a definite disadvantage.

The season began early in December when about twenty-five boys reported for the first practice. All were eager but very few had any basketball experience at all. Workouts were brisk, working mostly on fundamental offense and defensive play.

Our first game with Hendersonville was very encouraging as we trounced them 46-22. Passing was certainly one of our weak points in this and every other game although we worked hard to improve it. This first win gave us confidence but we were soon disappointed because Hume-Fogg beat us 45-32; then we were beaten by a visiting five from B. G. A. 27-25. The next game, with Duncan, was where we hit our offensive peak with a 44-22 victory.

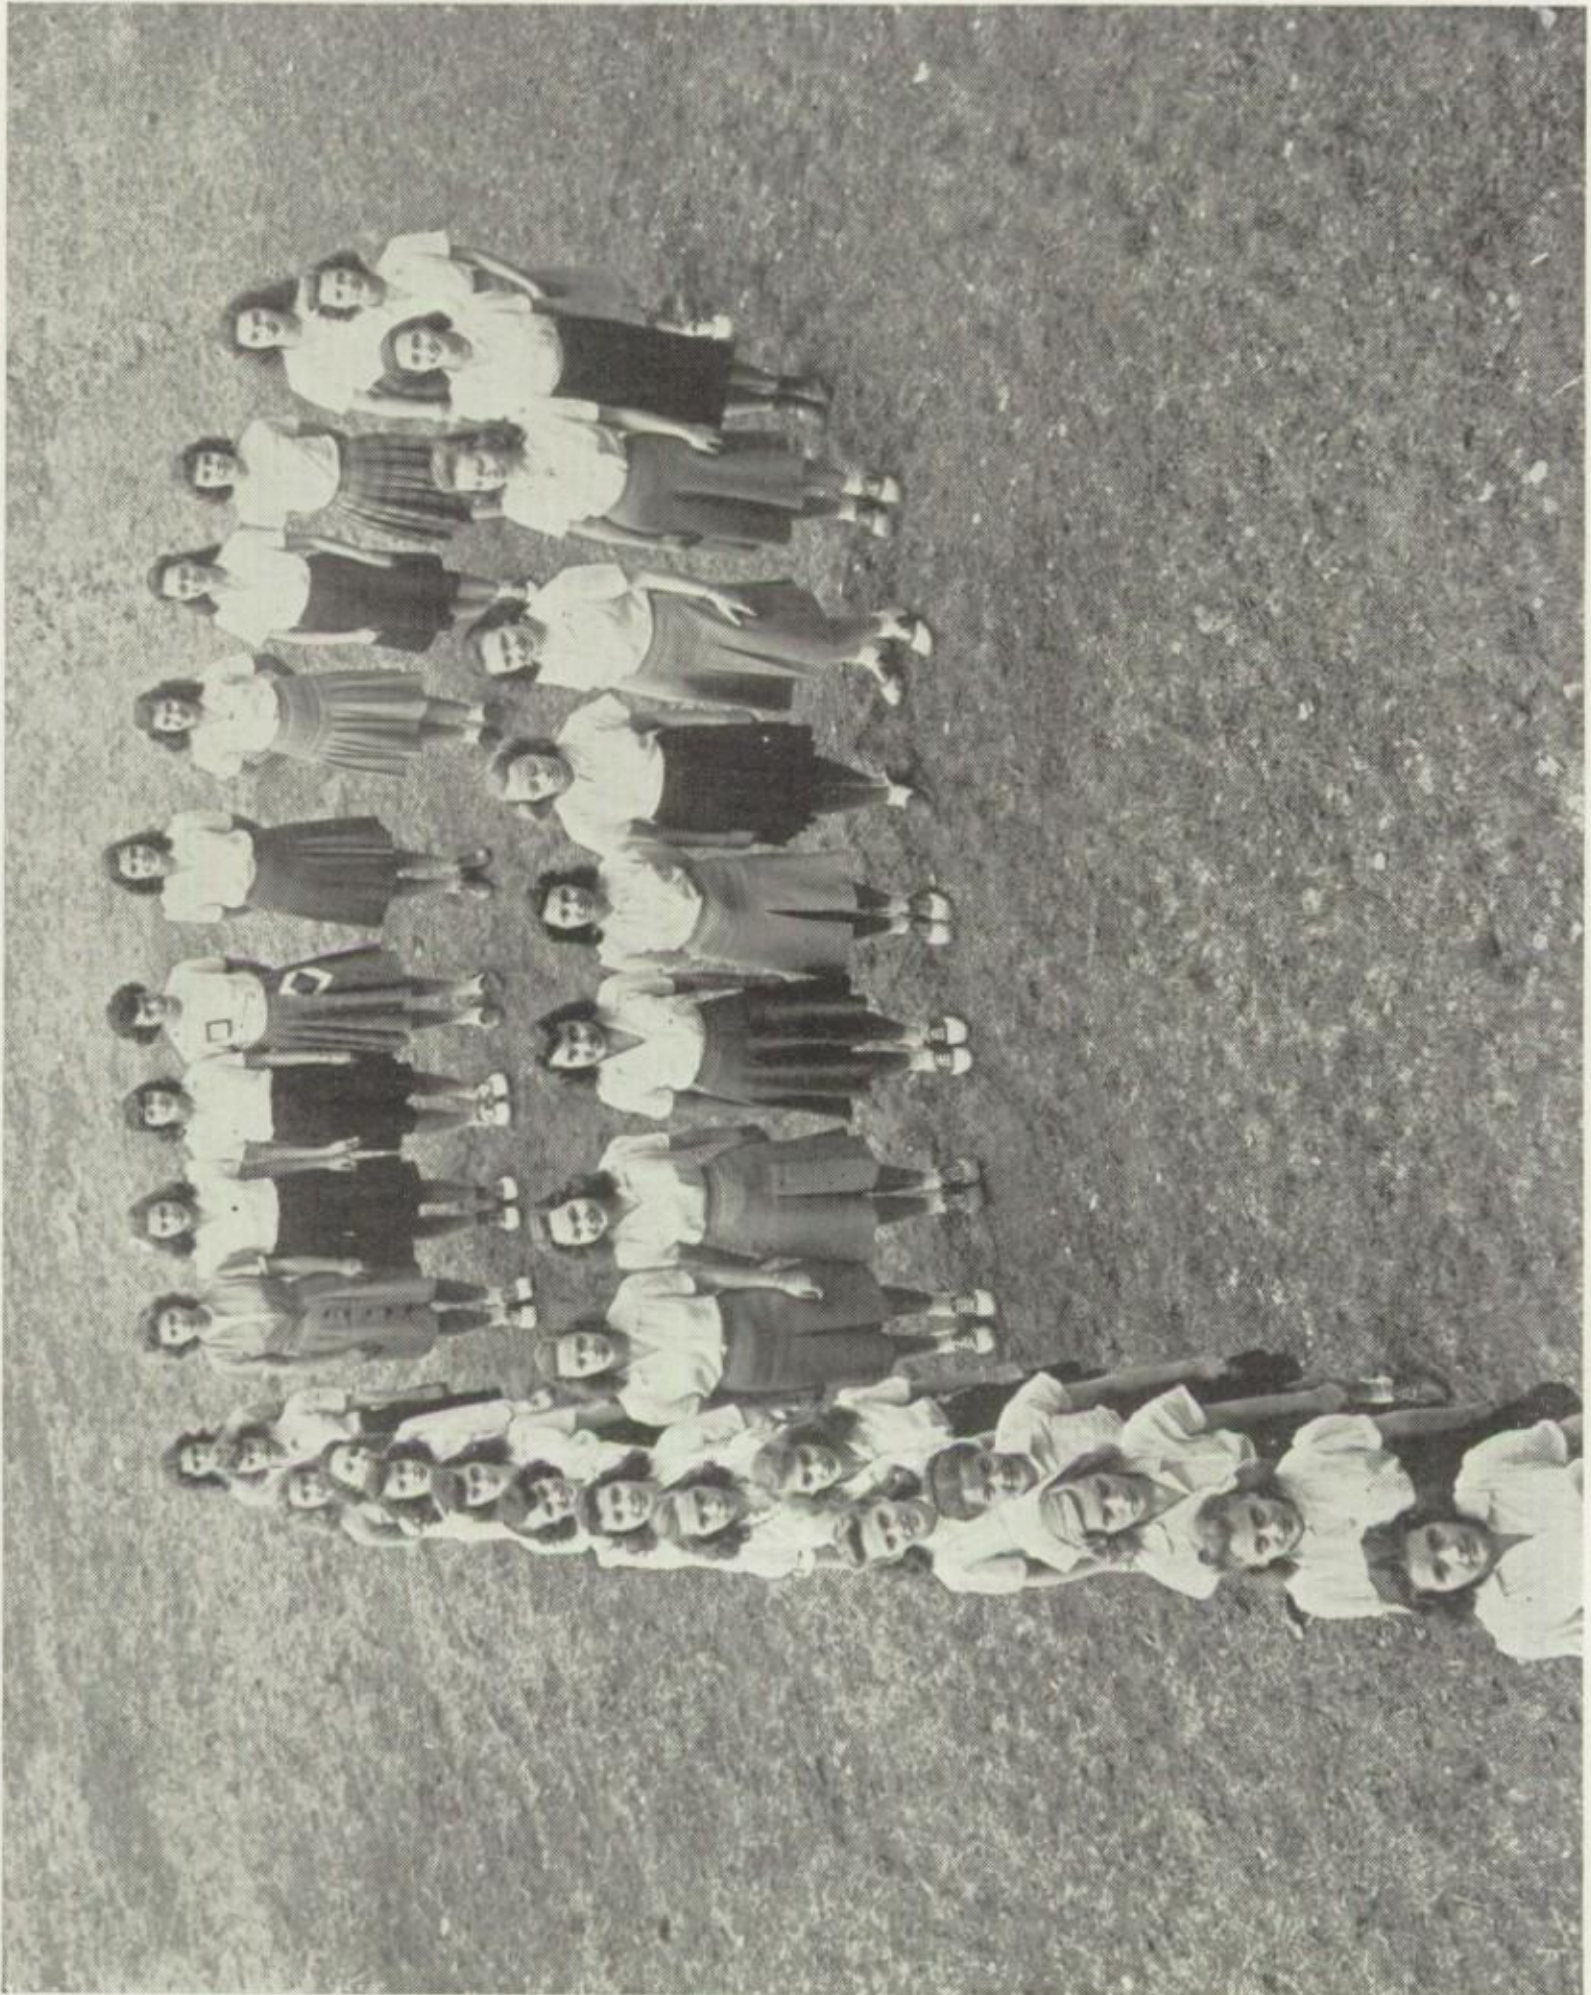

M. B. A. ran wild over us in our first game after the Christmas holidays. This was the first of a twelve game losing streak, probably the worst in the school history. Although we played many of the stronger teams in the city, we also played some we could have beaten. Our hard luck was broken in the last game of the season when we defeated the Duncan "Longhorns" again. In the District Tournament we were smothered by the powerful, fast breaking East Eagles, 60-25.

There were several reasons for our poor season but the main ones were a painful lack of experience and previous teamwork, lack of reserves, and poor ball handling. Our only asset was height as our starting five averaged about six feet. The loss of Jack May, sharp shooting forward, due to a knee injury was an unexpected handicap near the beginning of the season. Nevertheless, it can be said that all of us had a lot of fun the entire season, win or lose.

GIRLS' INTRAMURALS

Girls' Intramurals

This year of 1945-46 brought along a year filled with activities for the Girls' Intramurals. The first few meetings "Teach" Huggins talked with us about electing the captains of the teams and members of the Athletic Council. She suggested that every grade get together and choose two girls to represent it on the Council. A third was chosen from the Senior Class to act as president. The senior girls were automatically made captains of the three teams.

The next task was to choose teams. Everyone who came out for intramurals was placed on a team. This past year the players were distributed as evenly as possible with regard to playing ability as sometimes, in years previous, the interest in the games was lessened due to badly matched teams.

The first sport on the list for the Girls' Intramurals was soccer. The weather was usually very favorable, but even when it wasn't, the spirit of the games made up for red noses and numb fingers. The fact that the scores were so close was a compliment to the careful choosing done by the three captains. In spite of the earnest efforts of the two opposing teams, Cliffadeane Radabaugh's team just seemed to be the best soccer players.

The next game on the program was volleyball. Each team played with eager determination to win this tournament, but Martha Keith's girls finally came out on top.

Then came basketball, the favorite of almost everyone and the sport which had been looked forward to all year. Some new people came out about this time so there was an increase of players on the teams. All the practices held by the three groups showed up in the wonderful playing done. Everyone had a great deal of enthusiasm which made the games a success.

Following basketball there was about a two weeks' vacation from intramurals due to the large number of players being engaged in the operetta practices under way at that time. When they came back baseball practice began. Then as the time for the real games rolled around, they had to be postponed on account of rain. After some bad weather the games were resumed. It was wonderful to be outside again on beautiful spring days. Except for a few mishaps sliding into base, everyone came out in good condition.

This year there was not as much tennis played as had been previously due to the fact no one believed she possessed enough ability to play well. There were no tournament games, only practice and games on the outside.

The opportunities furnished by the Girls' Intramurals are numerous and are of great benefit to every girl. The main advantages are that one learns how to work and play better with others and becomes better acquainted with schoolmates. One other point that is brought out is that everyone learns by experience how to be unselfish and to work with good co-operation. The girls this year were good examples of the results of these opportunities. Each and every one did her part to make the intramural program a success.

Every game that was played was good. There was good playing by all teams and as the end of each tournament approached, every girl was playing a better game. By having teams and tournaments it instilled in every girl the desire to play better.

There were awards given at the end of the year to those who had participated in the intramurals and who, if they had missed any days, made up the absences. These were awarded by "Teach" Huggins. Our thanks goes to "Teach" for being so patient and helpful to us all.

Christmas Carol Service

Of outstanding interest to all Nashville music lovers was the traditional Christmas Carol Service, at Peabody Demonstration School, held on December 14 in the school auditorium at one o'clock. All grades from the first to the twelfth participated in the program consisting of well loved Christmas carols. The service is under the direction of Miss Viola Boekelheide.

The crowded auditorium was decorated with Christmas greens and red ribbons. The black and white robes added a solemn touch to the festive occasion.

The high school groups entered with O Come, O Come, Emmanuel followed by the grade children singing the familiar carol Here We Come A-Carolling.

The Girls' Glee Club sang Yon's Jesu Bambino. It was followed by a carol from the boys' quartette and Song of Mary by the high school choir.

The second part of the service was furnished by the elementary grades giving their Christmas Story, Song of the Crib, and A Merry Christmas.

The girls' ensemble sang John Jacob Niles's folk song, When Jesus Lived in Galilee with John Wolfe as soloist. Next, our Madrigal singers gave No Candle Was There and No Fire and The Holly and the Ivy.

The Junior and Senior Choirs rendered the Austrian carol, As Lately We Watched, and all grades concluded the program with the two famous carols, Joy to the World and Hark! the Herald Angels Sing.

Accompanists for the service were Trudy Lasseter, Katherine Anderson, and Jean Diehl.

A ROUTINE FACULTY MEETING

The Easter Breakfast

One of Peabody's oldest traditions is that of the Easter breakfast. It was twenty-eight years ago when the first group of Peabody's Seniors and her Alumni met for breakfast on Easter morning. Since that day it has become an annual affair for the purpose of once more renewing much cherished high school memories and acquaintances. The Alumni have a standing invitation to return each year to meet the current graduating class.

The event was even more successful than usual this past year. A great many more stars, both blue and gold, had been added to the service flag since its presentation on Easter morning, 1942. As this was our first peacetime breakfast in five years, we had with us a large number of "our boys" who were represented on this flag. We are all proud of the part they have played in maintaining our freedom to continue such occasions as this.

The annual affair was this year held on the roof gardens of Peabody. An attempt was made once more to return to Knapp Farm, but this was impossible. However, the Alumni enjoyed the familiar surroundings of the school we have all learned to love and appreciate so fully. After a breakfast of an unlimited supply of bacon and eggs and all the trimmings, a most inspirational service was held in which Dr. John L. Hill was the speaker.

At the close of the program each guest departed, having resolved to return on Easter morning, 1947, to this place where he had spent some of the happiest moments of his life.

The Athletic Banquet

A very successful football season and an enjoyable basketball season were climaxed this year by an Athletic Banquet in the school cafeteria. The stag affair, which we hope will become an annual event, was held on Saturday night, February 23rd. The banquet was planned by the boys with the help of Mr. Neil, and the fact that it was a father-son "feed" made it quite different from other affairs of this kind.

The program presented was highlighted by the presentation of the letters in each sport. Mr. Bridges awarded "P's" in football to 25 boys. Coach Bridges will always stand out in the minds of the boys as one of the finest men we have known, and the talk he gave on awarding the football letters will long be remembered by all who were present. Although the basketball team did not enjoy a "winning" season, I am sure that the nine boys who received these letters were proud to be able to wear them. Mr. Neil's hard work, in the face of numerous losses, was greatly appreciated by the boys.

Two managers' letters were awarded and these two letters stood for hard work on the part of two faithful boys. Harold Appleton received a manager's letter in basketball, and Kim Massie earned his in football. Although these events climaxed the program, numerous other numbers were enjoyed by the boys and their "Dads." We ate to the enjoyable music of Trudy Lasseter at the piano. A quartet composed of Bob Massie, Earl Woolwine, Bob Heton, and John Wolfe sang several numbers. Dr. Windrow gave the principal talk of the evening and sounded very encouraging on the subject of Peabody's future athletic set-up.

The Alumni were represented at the banquet by Lehman Keith and Dudley Green.

A most enjoyable evening was brought to an end by the whole group singing Auld Lang Syne and I feel sure that the evening will long be remembered by all who were present.

The Junior-Senior Picnic

On May 31, with books, classes, and exams a thing of the past, the Juniors and Seniors adjourned to the country and spent a very enjoyable day there.

After a softball game, swimming, miniature golf, sunbathing, and more swimming, mountains of fried chicken and potato salad, and gallons of strawberry ice cream were quickly disposed of.

Following lunch Jack May and Co. did several hilarious stunts.

In addition to the class mothers and sponsors, many other members of the faculty were present.

The festivities were finally halted by darkness, to the dismay of all.

A marvelous time was had by everyone, and the Juniors are already looking forward to next year's party.

THE DEMON

Well, kids, as we look back over the years, we have been the war guys and gals of this great country.

FOR THE DURATION, IT WAS:
SUGAR RATIONING:

For such gals as Dorothy Parker, Grace Walker, and Ann Ellis. And some too, for Josephine Currey and Jean Allen Powell.

O.A.O. REGULATIONS:

For Barbara Anderson and Rob McDonald, Jane Elam and Robert Nichols, Martha Tutwiler and Buddy Hewitt, and Joy Greene and Martin Broadwell.

BLITZKREIGS:

For Betty Jones and Bob Massie, Jim Mark and Elaine Morris, Shirley Hall and George Root, and Jim Ward and Beverly Willis. (England doesn't have anything on us!) But they say that "true love never runs smooth."

WARNINGS:

From the teachers before all those black-outs for exams but not many kids went to the "shelter to dig deep for their knowledge." The "Air-Raids" came too soon for many of us.

RADAR WAVES:

By Dottie Fields to communicate with M. B. A. Also Sarah Lasseter, Ann Sneed, "Sister" Cates, and Sarah Hayes listened in on many conversations with the guys out there. Stelle Holmes and Margie Jones chose Duncan for their contact with the moon. . . . While Jackie Elliot, Dair Lovin, and Mickie Cooper shot waves to West. Ryan was spotted by Gloria Bruer, Ann Lance, "Dumpy" Jennings, and Betty Notgrass.

THE BATTLE OF THE BULGE:

For those stalwart soldiers doing their 1-2-3-4's at the crack of dawn battling off their bulge finding victory finally at their grasp. Here we find Cliffadeane Radabaugh, Mary Lloyd McKeel, Katy Anderson, and Madaline Simmons.

THE BATTLE OF THE HARDWOOD:

Fighting here was our grand team shooting such goals at Howard, Cohn, M.B.A., etc. Soldiers here were such as Bill Tanksley, Bob Massie, Everett Kelley, Murray Cooke, Ben Cardwell, Slim Kuykendall, Steve Cragon, and Dennis Cooke.

THE BATTLE OF THE GREEN:

Taking part were Creason Clayton, Joe Hibbitts, Albert Ewing, Jordan Litsey, Jack Marks, Bobby Goodman, and the rest of that "never to be forgotten team" spurred on by those "never say die" cheerleaders (Plug!) The 4-Star General awarded for this victory was Coach Bridges.

CASUALTIES:

To Jack May and Rob McDonald with their knees. . . . To Marty Keith, Warren Baker, Margie Pangburn for a case of measles. . . . And to Bill Martin whom we missed so terribly during his long absence.

BUT 1946 BROUGHT:

STRIKES:

For the school party with Roy Payne, Hobson Hoard, and Lewis Burton picketing for a large happy crowd.

THE DEMON

For more homework by Yot Williams, Durand Hite, Katie Lou Martin, Jean Slaymaker, and Everette Smith. But we can't leave out Bettye Schumpert who has her lessons every morning.

FAREWELLS:

To our '46 President, Everett Kelley and to David Johnson (who was with us only a half year), when they packed their bags for Uncle Sam's Navy. . . . To Houston Roberts who was called by the Army.

WEDDING BELLS:

For Peggy Faulkner and Marvin, and Jean Tyner and Tom, hoping the old saying "they lived happily ever after" is carried out.

THE LOVE-BUG:

Came to Margie Ericson and Murray Cooke, Kitty Forker and Ben Cardwell, Catherine Connors and a "Cavert lad," Jeanne Melton and Dane Boggs, and John Wolfe and Mary Ann Thomas, and so-on into the night.

HONORS:

To Kay Fryer and John Wolfe for their roles in Trial by Jury. . . . Joan Bell for her office as Senior Vice-President after Kelley left us. . . . Robert Helton for his award in the Junior Academy of Science. . . . To Donald Maynard for his editorship of Trail Ways at the Children's Museum . . . and John Culley for his solo work in the Region Music Clinic. . . . To Miss Kendall for being so perfectly "super" about helping us for dinners, picnics, teas, etc. . . . To all the sororities for their grand basketball games for the benefit of the Red Cross. . . . And to Miss Heath, Bob Massie, and Nancy Ross for making this Volunteer the best yet!
